BANGLADESH TELECOMMUNICATION REGULATORY COMMISSION

Instructions for Amateur Radio Usages and Procedures in Bangladesh

Reference: Amateur Radio Service related Guideline of Bangladesh approved by Ministry of Post and Telecommunication, letter no: পিটি/শাখা-৫/১১-১/৯২-৪১৮, তারিখঃ২৪/০৫/৯২

1. INTRODUCTION

- 1.1. Amateur Radio is used for purposes of non-commercial exchange of messages, wireless experimentation, self-training, private recreation, and emergency communication. Though Amateur Radio service is considered as a voluntary non-commercial communication service, yet each amateur radio operators should be ready to provide emergency communication during natural disaster, such as: severe weather reporting, supporting evacuations to safe areas, shelter operations and locating distressed people, assisting government agencies, medical help requests, critical supply requests and any other services in favour of humanity.
- 1.2. Former Telegraph & Telephone Board, Dhaka drafted “Amateur Radio Service related Guideline of Bangladesh” and sent the proposal (ref no:B-W:16-4/83: date : 30/12/1991) to Ministry of Post and Telecommunication (MOPT), which was approved by MOPT in 1992 (Ref no: পিটি/শাখা-৫/১১-১/৯২-৪১৮, তারিখঃ২৪/০৫/৯২). Till now it is the only guideline for Amateur Radio, which is about two decades old and needs a review. Thus, considering technological advancement, demands of time, principles of transparency, fairness, non-discrimination and all other relevant principles, the Commission has decided to issue ‘Instructions for Amateur Radio Usages and Procedure in Bangladesh’.

2. OBJECTIVES

These instructions are intended to provide the regulatory framework on the provisions and conditions for amateur radio usages and procedures in Bangladesh.

3. LEGAL ISSUES

- 3.1. Bangladesh Telecommunication Regulatory Commission (hereinafter the “Commission”) has been empowered by and under the Chapter 8 of the Bangladesh Telecommunication Regulation Act, 2001 (as amended) (hereinafter the “Act”) to issue Licenses for the operation and provision of service with radio apparatus including Amateur Radio Service and to determine the eligibility criteria and other general terms and conditions for License/Licensee.

- 3.2. These Instructions, along with the terms and conditions of the License, shall be read in conjunction with the Act, any subsequent legislation, other prevalent laws or sector policies framed by the Government, rules, regulations, judgement decrees, orders, decisions, Instructions, directives and other documents of general application issued by the Commission from time to time. The Act specifically provides, under the Sections 55, that any person shall, without license, neither establish, operate nor use a radio apparatus for the purpose of radio communication in the land or territorial waters of Bangladesh or in space above it, nor shall he use any radio frequency other than frequency allotted by the Commission.
- 3.3. The Commission reserves the right and authority to vary, change or amend the Instructions as it seems fit and proper. To take into consideration various factors including but not limited to, any threat to public interest, public health and national security and statutory or Court orders, these Instructions may be withdrawn, revised, updated or amended from time to time, without any prior notice.
- 3.4. These Instructions shall form an integral part of the License and vice-versa.
- 3.5. In addition to the mandatory grounds for disqualification for applying for a License referred to subsection 36(3) of Bangladesh Telecommunication Regulation Act, 2001 (as amended), the Commission shall also consider whether the applicant satisfies other criteria including but not limited to:
- 3.5.1. Whether the applicant has sufficient management and financial capacity to operate the activities; and
 - 3.5.2. How far the issuance of the License will serve the public interest.
- 3.6. The followings are the principal legal statutes governing the telecommunication industry in Bangladesh:
- 3.6.1. The Bangladesh Telecommunication Regulation Act, 2001 (as amended).
 - 3.6.2. The Wireless Telegraphy Act, 1933 and The Telegraph Act, 1885, for matters which are not covered by the Bangladesh Telecommunication Regulation Act, 2001 (as amended).
 - 3.6.3. Any other concerned Act, Ordinance, Rules and Regulation(s).
 - 3.6.4. Any directives, direction, order, instructions, notifications, decisions of the Commission.
- 3.7. Besides the principal statutes mentioned above, the licensee shall also comply with: the relevant provisions of the Constitution, Convention, and Radio Regulations of International Telecommunication Union (ITU), as well as the National Frequency Allocation Table (NFAT) of Bangladesh.
- 3.8. In case of inconsistency between the provisions of the instruments mentioned above, the provisions of the instrument shall prevail as per the following order:
- a) Any Act or Ordinance promulgated after the enactment of the Act 2001.
 - b) Act 2001.
 - c) The Wireless Telegraphy Act, 1933.

- d) The Telegraphy Act, 1885.
- e) Rules of GOB.
- f) Regulations of the Commission.
- g) License issued under these Instructions.
- h) NFAT.
- i) Constitution, Convention, Radio Regulations of ITU.
